

DENTON PHOTOGRAPHY 2009/10 TRAINING PROGRAMME

EXTEND YOUR SKILLS, EXTEND YOUR MIND

John Denton has been a professional wedding and fashion photographer since 2004. In that time his style has been welcomed across Europe by clients and his fellow professionals. He has won multiple awards from magazines and professional bodies. He has worked with the renowned Annabel Williams team to deliver training on weddings and social photography, run numerous courses from his own studios and been invited to be a headline speaker at the 2010 Society of Wedding and Portrait Photography Convention. He writes regularly for a number of photography magazines and still finds time to shoot weddings and fashion shoots across the UK.

Listed below are the courses planned for this year, please contact the studio for details of the date, location and availability. All courses (except 1 to 1) are £225 and include a full day of instruction, model fees and releases, lunch and refreshments.

Shooting the Contemporary Bride

The modern bride is more influenced by fashion than ever before. If you cannot shoot her in that style, quickly and without fuss, your business will suffer. This course will combine theory with a practical shoot to show you just how John works on a Wedding Day. This course is aimed at aspiring and working professional photographers.

From Camera to Wall

The modern photographer working with digital files needs to understand the concept of taking an original image and turning it into a work of art. This principal was long understood by those masters of the darkroom and this course moves those skills onto your computer screen. This course uses the two principal industry programmes Adobe Lightroom and Adobe Photoshop and shows the importance and skills, vital in calibrating, processing and printing the perfect work of art.

Finding the Light

John will use any light source available to him to create his images. This amazing course will open your eyes and minds to the possibilities offered by any location. He will use off camera flash, constant light and available light fittings to produce truly inspirational images. Aimed at those who have a good understanding of the basic skills of photography this course will elevate your images to a new level.

Shooting a Model Portfolio

Can you give young models the X factor they require as they make their way into the industry, or even give that fashion edge to your everyday clients? John can and will share with you the practical and theoretical skills you need to give that extra edge to your business.

Developing Vision

Our most popular course aimed at amateur and professional alike. If you need to look at the world differently and discover a new way of using your camera this is the course for you. Combining theory with a practical shoot and critique session you will leave with a new slant on your artistry and an ability to see the beauty in the most mundane of settings.

One To One

This is your chance to spend a full day with John and have a day of training that is totally designed around you and your needs. The session can cover the capture of images, post processing, marketing and business structure. Whether you are a full time professional who wants to raise thier game or a keen amateur wanting to improve their skills, this is one day that will last you a lifetime. Each 1 to 1 course costs just £850 and is fully inclusive of model fees, lunch and refreshments.

If you have a particular need for some photographic training that is not listed here please call to discuss. If it is not something we cover then we will happily point you in the right direction for some quality advice.
